Dear Parents and Carers

Great Marlow School is committed to raising awareness about the risks of being online and to helping our parents and carers access professional information, therefore we subscribed, some time ago, to National Online Safety, whose mission is to "make the internet a safer place for children".

Already many parents and carers have taken advantage of this service. However, we choose to send this timely reminder of its availability because it has come to our attention that some very unpleasant material is circulating on social media platforms at the moment.

By browsing National Online Safety, you will feel better equipped to combat the criminal activity of those who hide behind a screen to harm our children. Becoming a member will empower you; the courses and information packs will improve your understanding of online dangers. Importantly, there is advice and guidance about what to do, and how to react, should an incident arise.

To enrol as a member go to National Online Safety Registration

The site requires you to complete online registration: please select "I am a Parent/Carer" from the dropdown menu. The site is also available direct from GMS's website via Parent & Carers / Internet Safety

Once registered you will be able to access the 'Online Safety for Parents and Carers' course, plus all the other National Online Safety's resources, which includes more than 50 of the latest online platform guides to social media channels and games.

Should you have any questions, or trouble accessing the course, please contact support@nationalonlinesafety.com.

UK Safer Internet Centre also offers invaluable advice. Click this link to visit their site: Staying Safe Online

Yours faithfully
