

KS5

Let's get started...watch this video

The Jelling Stones, thousand-year-old Viking runestones

SOMETHING TO READ

The rest is History

Historians Tom Holland and Dominic Sandbrook are interrogating the past, and attempting to de-tangle the present.

SOMETHING TO VIEW

The Last Days of Anne Boleyn <http://www.tudorfiles.com/>

Documentary showing the last days of Anne Boleyn, before her execution in 1536. Video is copyright its respective owner.

SOMETHING TO LISTEN TO

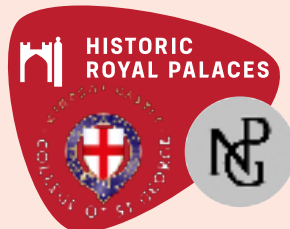

Not just the Tudors

<https://podcasts.apple.com/au/podcast/seymour-dudley-parr-families-forgotten-tudor-women>

Professor Suzannah Lipscomb talks about everything from the Aztecs to witches, Velázquez to Shakespeare, Mughal India to the Mayflower. Not, in other words, just the Tudors, but most definitely also the Tudors.

SOMEWHERE TO VISIT

St George's Chapel Windsor Castle

Kenilworth Castle and Framlingham Castle
Hampton Court Palace
National Portrait Gallery

Further afield – Berlin

SOMETHING TO DO

Become a podcaster

Create a podcast about an aspect of history for GCSE students to help them revise a topic.

SOMETHING TO WATCH

Try watching a virtual tour of an International Museum:

British Museum, London
Pergamon Museum, Berlin
Louvre, Paris
National Museum of Anthropology, Mexico City

AND FINALLY... an act of kindness

.... Random Act of Kindness Day is on 17th February have a look at famous historical acts of kindness throughout history. Here is one to get you started Fukushima volunteers.